

Architect selected for expansion project

OKC firm has worked with Mustang in the past with other projects, City Manager says

The City of Mustang selected an architect firm to work on the design of the public library and Town Center banquet hall. The City Council interviewed several firms before agreeing on their selection on Thursday, June 28.

The City selected Red Prairie Design Group from Oklahoma City, said Mustang City Manager Mike Rutledge.

"All of the firms we interviewed were very qualified," Rutledge said. "The City Council really liked the some of the design proposals Red Prairie gave us."

Rutledge said the next part of the process was to notify the firm to inform them that they were selected.

"They will meet with us sometime this week and we will work out the details with them and negotiate a cost," he said.

Rutledge said Red Prairie Design Group has worked with on projects in the past in Mustang.

"We worked with them with the current City Hall and the Police Department," he said. "Actually, we have worked with all the firms that were interested, so it was hard picking just one of them because we have a good working relationship with all of them. They are all good and honest companies."

Voters passed a $3.6 million bond issue last March, which includes expanding the public library by approximately 7,200 square feet and the banquet hall by around 3,500 square feet. It will also provide more area for community classes and children activities and the banquet hall will almost double its current capacity.

The Town Center's additions will cost approximately $2.02 million. The bonds will be issued late this year and construction could take place late this year or early next year. Once construction begins on the projects, both of them will take about a year.

Anderson against increased budget for juvenile center

David Anderson proposes $7.8 million budget; Public Facilities Authority votes 2-1 to approve $8.2 million budget

EL RENO – The Canadian County Public Facilities Authority voted 2-1 to approve the FY 2012-13 budget for the Gary E. Miller Juvenile Justice Center on Monday.

The approved budget was for a total of $8.2 million, a number that trustee David Anderson thought was too high.

"I thought this was too big of a step in funding," Anderson said. "I think smaller steps in government spending are more appropriate and just because the revenue is there doesn't mean we have to increase it that much."

The $8.2 million budget is based off the revenue the center made, including $2.2 million in contract revenue, $5.7 million in sales tax revenue and $200,000 in reserves.

Anderson proposed a budget of $7.8 million for the center, but neither trustees Jack Stewart or Phil Carson seconded the motion.

Stewart motioned to approve the requested $8.2 million, which was seconded by Carson. Anderson voted 'No.'

"Keep in mind that the center's budget is $8.2 million and our entire county general fund is around $11.5 million," Anderson said.

The center's budget last fiscal year was $7.2 million.

minor girl use it to buy blue panties. When Dubala was approached by the Sheriff and his Deputies, he attempted to drive off but was immediately boxed in by Sheriff's cars. He was taken into custody and booked into the Canadian County Jail.

His bond was set at $125,000.

Sergeant Flowers advised that it takes approximately 15 minutes online to be approached by a predator.

"Parents need to always be aware of who their children are online with, not only to keep them from being sexually abused but to keep them from being killed as well," Edwards said. "I believe any predator is capable of killing their victim if they believe it would keep them from being caught or exposed."

When he was arrested, Edwards advised Dubala had a single $10 bill in his pocket and admitted to Sergeant Flowers that he was going to have the
